

SANTA WILL BRING MUNICIPAL TREE

Christmas Celebration for All Children in Jackson County to be Held in Seymour.

SINGING BY UNION CHORUS

Merchants' Association Plans Novel Holiday Festivities—Candy and Fruit for Boys and Girls.

WANTED: BIGGEST CEDAR TREE IN JACKSON COUNTY

The Municipal Christmas Tree Committee of the Seymour Retail Merchants' Association is searching for the biggest cedar tree in Jackson county. There are plenty of evergreen trees of ordinary size, but the committee wants the biggest one. Those who know of towering cedars that can be obtained are requested to notify Fred Able, chairman of the committee.

Children in Jackson county are to have a big Christmas tree, elaborately decorated and lighted with colored incandescent globes which will make it the most attractive ever seen in Indiana. Near the tree will be a big platform where at least one musical program will be given by the best singers in Seymour. Following that program a sack of candy and some fruit will be given each child by Santa Claus himself. All this was discussed and arranged at a meeting of the Seymour Retail Merchants' Association Monday night. The news will be welcomed not only by the children of the county, but by their parents for through the big Municipal Christmas Tree celebration the joyous Christmas spirit will be carried into every home.

The plan to have a Municipal Christmas Tree was discussed here last year and the preliminary plans were practically agreed upon, but because of the short time allowed to carry out the idea the plan was abandoned. Since then many persons have urged that the Municipal Tree be arranged for this year and accordingly the first steps were taken by the Merchants Association after the plan had been explained and discussed. All the merchants and citizens who have heard of the proposed county celebration in this city are enthusiastic about it and have stated that they will support it with funds as well as personal effort.

Victor N. Fettig, president of the Merchants' Association, was empowered to appoint a committee of six to make the general arrangements for the celebration. Accordingly, he named Fred Able, chairman, Will Clark, L. L. Bollinger, L. C. Gifford, W. L. Johnson and Hubert Bridges.

According to Mr. Able, who is enthusiastic over the celebration, the tree will be the biggest that can be obtained in Indiana. The committee is already searching and inquiring for a suitable cedar and it is expected that it will be cut before the cold, disagreeable weather begins. The plan at present is to bring the tree to the city about ten days or two weeks before December 25 and to have it decorated and illuminated at least one week before Christmas Day. It has been suggested that a large archway bearing the message "Merry Christmas" be erected in the block where the tree will stand. The words composing the greeting will be outlined in electric light globes. The tree itself will be illuminated with colored light globes and the committee intends that it shall be the most spectacular in Indiana.

"Other cities, of course, will have Municipal Christmas trees," said Mr. Able, "but we want the one in Seymour to be the most attractive to be seen anywhere. We shall give each child a sack of candy and some fruit and shall try and carry the glad tidings of the Christmas season to every home in Jackson county. This celebration is not for Seymour alone. It embraces the entire coun-

NEW CASES FILED IN CIRCUIT COURT

Jury Called Today to Hear Evidence in Case of State Against Klitch.

SEVERAL VENUES ARE TAKEN

Several Actions Docketed Have Been Settled Out of Court—News of Circuit Court.

The case of the state of Indiana against George Klitch, Jr., of Brownstown, was on trial before a jury in the Jackson circuit court today. The defendant was charged with a statutory offense. The evidence was completed about 4 o'clock this afternoon and it was expected that the arguments before the jury would be made before court adjourned. The case may go to the jury late this afternoon.

Quite a number of new cases have been filed during the last few days. Some probate business has been transacted and many motions have been filed by attorneys in cases already pending. Several cases expected to be tried before a jury have been settled out of court.

The following new cases have been filed:

Charlotte C. Davis, et al., vs. William B. Sparks, et al., Partition of Real Estate in the estate of John T. Sparks, deceased.

First National Bank of Seymour, Indiana vs. William B. Sparks; note, demands $250.00.

James G. Sweany vs. William B. Sparks; note demand $125.00.

Charles L. Smith vs. Garry Lucas; note and mortgage, demand $140.00.

Minnie M. Reynolds vs. Jefferson A. Reynolds, divorce and alimony. In the complaint the plaintiff alleges that defendant was cruel and inhuman and failed to provide. That defendant has not provided any food in the past ten years and that all the clothing he has provided would not amount to ten dollars. Plaintiff and defendant have been married twenty-five years and have eight children aged 22, 19, 17, 15, 13, 11, 7 and 5 years. She asks for $500.00 alimony and for $150.00 a year allowance for support of children.

CHANGES MADE AT FIRST NATIONAL

Directors Elect Edwin O. Heuser as Cashier to Succeed J. H. Andrews.

JOHN KEEGLER MADE TELLER

J. Robert Blair is Named as First Bookkeeper—Andrews Heads Trust Company.

At a meeting of the directors of the First National Bank late Monday afternoon, Edwin O. Heuser, for six years teller at that institution, was elected cashier to succeed J. H. Andrews, who becomes the president of the Jackson County Loan and Trust Company. With the election of Mr. Heuser as cashier John Keegler, first bookkeeper, becomes teller and J. Robert Blair was advanced to the position of first bookkeeper. The place occupied by Mr. Blair has not yet been filled.

Mr. Heuser assumes the duties of cashier of the First National with a thorough banking training and is well equipped to fill this important position. He entered the employ of the bank as bookkeeper and after serving in that capacity for several years was promoted to the teller's window. He has held the position of teller since July 1, 1909 and during that period has proved himself a careful and painstaking employee. He handles money with rapidity and has an unusual ability in recognizing signatures. He has been popular with the patrons of the institution who congratulate him on his promotion.

Mr. Keegler was promoted to the position of teller on merit and is qualified to perform the duties that will fall upon him. Because of his experience as bookkeeper he is well acquainted with the bank's clientele. Mr. Blair becomes first bookkeeper after several years' experience in that department.

The changes will be made some time this week when Mr. Andrews severs his connection with the bank to take up the presidency of the Trust Company. He was recently elected to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late J. H. Matlock.

Because of Mr. Heuser's popularity with the public and his unusual success as teller arrangements will be made so that he will be able to assist Mr. Keegler during the rush hours. At such times Mr. Keegler will act as receiving teller and Mr. Heuser will look after the paying of checks. A few changes will be made at his desk so that he will be able to do this in connection with his work as cashier of the institution. This arrangement was decided upon because of the steadily growing business of the bank which at times demands two windows.

CONFERENCE PLANS BEING ARRANGED

Committees Named to Arrange Details of State Meeting to be Held Here Nov. 19-21.

LEADING WORKERS ON PROGRAM

Elementary Sunday School Leaders Will Gather Here for Second Meet of its Kind.

At a meeting last night of the general committee in charge of arrangements for the conference of elementary Sunday School workers which is to be held in Seymour November 19-21, committees for the various duties in entertaining the visitors and arranging the details of the three days' meeting were named.

The conference, which is the second of its kind to be held, is second only in importance to the state convention, and will bring to Seymour leading Sunday School workers from all over the state, while on the program, which has been arranged by the Indiana Sunday School Association, are some of the foremost leaders in the entire country, notably Mrs. Mary Foster Bryner, who is International Elementary Superintendent and Miss Myrtle Huckelberry, formerly of this city, Elementary Superintendent for the Baptist church, W. C. Hall, president of the Indiana Sunday School Association, Mr. Burnie, the general secretary, Miss Weaver, the temperance superintendent and Miss Lemen, state elementary superintendent, will all be present and lend their help in making the conference a success and a real help to all those attending.

The conference, according to arrangements, will open Friday evening, Nov. 19th, with a banquet to the delegates and visitors. Then there will be three sessions on Saturday and Sunday afternoon and evening sessions. The delegates will be entertained in the homes of the church people of the city. The Harvard plan of entertainment, namely, furnishing room and breakfast, has been adopted by the state association.

Delegates on arriving will be taken to the First Baptist church, where they will register and receive their assignments. The committee voted last night to turn the banquet arrangements over to the Ladies' Aid Society of the First M. E. church, and the members of that society will have full charge of the banquet and the serving of meals to the delegates on the two days following.

The registration fee for delegates in the county will be 50 cents and for delegates out of the county the fee will be 85 cents, which includes the banquet ticket. There is no limit to the number in the county who may register and it is expected that there will be a heavy local and county registration.

The sessions will be held in the First Baptist and St. Paul's Congregational churches, owing to their proximity. The state association desired to hold the conference in one church which could offer four different rooms that could be used for meetings at the same time, but as none of the local churches were so arranged, the above named churches will both be used.

The committees which were named last night are as follows:

Registration: German M. E., Mrs. Philip Becker, Mrs. C. R. Hoffman; First M. E., Mrs. Charles Frey, Mrs. Frank Bretthauer; First Baptist, Mrs. J. Robert Blair, Miss Alice Stanfield; Presbyterian, Miss Hattie Roeger, Miss Helen Galbraith; Christian, Mrs. James E. Hamer, Miss Grace Love; St. Paul's, Mrs. Ed Wolters.

Decorations: W. H. Hughes, Claude Carter, M. A. Barick, Ed Wolter, Ray R. Keach, Lewis M. Schneck.

Music: Mrs. F. J. Voss, Ed. L. Hancock, Don A. Bollinger, Miss Frieda Aufderheide, Miss Anna E. Carter, Miss Bessie Patrick.

Banquet and Meals: Ladies' Aid Society, First M. E. Church. Reception: J. E. Graham and boys.

9 AMERICANS AT DOUGLASS KILLED

Rain of Lead from Mexican Battle Falls in American Town North of International Line.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS ARE CLOSED

General Funston and General Davis Have Charge of Protection of Americans in Arizona Town.

By United Press. Douglass, Ariz., November 2.—Defeated, the Villista army retired to the eastward from Agua Prieta today, leaving four hundred dead and wounded on the battle field. The Villista forces seemed to be disintegrating. Many were thought to be deserting to go in search of food and water. The Carranzistas reported their losses were forty-five killed and seventy-five wounded.

General Frederick Funston arrived today and took command of the American forces.

Villa's retreating were greeted by a roar of cheers from the victorious Carranzista garrison. Repeated assaults had failed. General Calles' entanglements had proved impene- trable. After a last desperate attack the hungry and thirsty Villista troops fled.

Just a little later a large force of Yaqui Indians, estimated at 2,000, joined the Villista army. General Calles sent fresh troops to his trenches to meet the Yaquis if they attempted to renew their assault. Wounded Villista soldiers taken to the Carranzista hospitals stated they had been without food for two days. They said they had all believed Villa's declaration that they could easily capture Agua Prieta within at most twenty-four hours. All of General Calles' cannon were intact today. Many buildings in Agua Prieta were badly damaged.

9 Americans including 4 soldiers of the Seventh Infantry, had been wounded in Douglass early today since the battle at Agua Prieta opened between the Carranzistas and Villistas.

A rain of lead has fallen in every direction.

PREMIER ASQUITH TALKS TO COMMONS

England's Prime Minister Intimates Dardanelles Campaign May Be Abandoned.

SITUATION GROWING SERIOUS

Hints at Conscription and Urges Government and Individuals to Practice Economy.

By United Press. London, November 2.—Intimating that the Dardanelles campaign may be abandoned and declaring England's situation is serious, Premier Asquith this afternoon answered the demand of the British nation for a frank statement regarding the conduct of the war. Members of commons had scarcely settled back from the shock of the first announcement of the situation in the near East when the prime minister plunged into a discussion of war finances. For the first time since the war began he hinted that the financial burden may outweigh the political achievements. "Our financial situation is serious," said Asquith. "Though rich and resourceful we cannot sustain the present burden unless both the government and individual exercise the strictest economy."

A third important statement touched on conscription and he hinted that the government would adopt compulsory enlistment measures if the present recruiting measures fail. "I have not the least doubt," said the prime minister, "that it will be necessary to proceed beyond Lord Derby's volunteer recruiting scheme, but I am determined to stop at nothing." "I am determined we shall win this war and sooner than not win it I would not hesitate to propose some form of compulsory enlistment." Several times the prime minister referred to the charges of the government's critics. "Let me remark," he said, "I am not here to apologize for the government which to the best of its ability has controlled operations with the confidence of the great mass of the country."

Prolonged cheering greeted the announcement that the allies have no intention of deserting Serbia in her hour of need. General Joffre's recent visit to London had to do with plans for perfecting the allies' new campaign in the Balkans. "We cannot allow Serbia to become the prey of the sinister and nefarious combination of Germany, Austria and Bulgaria," said the premier.

BRITISH SEIZE AMERICAN SHIP

Challenge the Ownership of Steamer Hocking.

CASE MAY GO TO PRIZE COURT

Transfer of Registry From German to Danish Registry and Then to United States Registry Is Alleged to Have Been a Blind.

Washington, Nov. 2.—That the neutrality and ownership of the American vessel Hocking is to be challenged by the British government in the seizure of the ship by British cruisers and taken before the British admiralty court at Halifax, N. S., seems to be assured.

It is expected the state department will be requested to ask England for a release.

Reports that the vessel was being brought to Halifax in charge of a prize crew, was received at the state department from Consul General Young at Halifax.

The Hocking was formerly a Danish vessel, and was given American registry this summer after its purchase by the American Trans-Atlantic Steamship company, a firm incorporated in Delaware.

At the time of the transfer the department of commerce asked the state department if there were any objections to the granting of registration. The inquiry was made because the officials had reason to believe that the transaction was open to challenge, the charge being made that the ship was originally German, that the transfer to Danish registry was merely a blind.

The state department held that, while the vessel might later be required to prove actual neutral character, and the validity of transfer of registry, there was no grounds in United States law for refusing registry, as application was made by the American corporation now owning the vessel.

That such action would be taken against the vessels of the company was surmised here, after England, ten days ago announced that she had abrogated the rule of the declaration of London, which provides that the enemy or neutral character of a vessel is determined by the character of the flag she is entitled to fly.

If Great Britain replies that the statute of the vessel has been referred to a prize court for investigation, the United States will not object, as it has always held that the vessels transferred in wartime were subject to challenge to prove their neutral character.

The state department also was advised that the American ship Llama, formerly under German registration and owned by the Standard Oil company, ran aground near Dundee, Scotland, while in charge of a British prize crew.

In all receipts calling for baking powder, use Royal Baking Powder. Better and finer food will be the result, and you will safeguard it against a possible dangerous compound.

Look out for adulterated baking powders. Do not permit them to come into your house under any consideration. They may add an injurious substance to your food, destroying in part its digestibility. Doctors will tell you this and it is unquestionable.

Housewives are sometimes led to use inferior baking powders because of deceptive foaming or boiling tests or apparent lower cost, but there is very little difference in practical use, about one cent for a whole cake or pan of biscuits--a mere trifle when you consider the vast difference in healthfulness in favor of food made with Royal Baking Powder.

MUNICIPAL TREE.

The Municipal Christmas Tree which has been planned by the Seymour Retail Merchants' Association, will in a very large way bring Christmas spirit into the homes of the city and county. Christmas is not alone a day for children. Its purpose and spirit touch the hearts of the adults as well. It is the one day in the year when all hearts throb as one. The beauty of Christmas is most evident when the spirit of the day is felt throughout the community. This can be accomplished by such a plan as is undertaken by the Merchants' Association. The Municipal Christmas Tree is the center of a big Community party in which every boy and girl shares alike. The success of the movement will depend upon co-operation and already it is clearly apparent that it will be enthusiastically endorsed.

FACULTY CONCERT IS HEARD BY LARGE CROWD

Pleasing Program is Given by Conservatory of Music Instructors at the First Baptist Church.

The First Baptist church was crowded to capacity last evening for the faculty concert of the Seymour Conservatory of Music. It was a notable gathering of the music loving public of Seymour, and the applause with which the various artists were greeted, and the expressions of approval which were heard as the large crowd was leaving the church gave abundant proof of the reception of the program.

The program introduced a new artist to a Seymour audience, in the person of Mrs. Marie Krug Chaney, the new instructor in voice at the conservatory. Mrs. Chaney sang two groups of songs in a most pleasing manner, including "The Dewdrop Loves the Morning," by D. Hardelot, "Somewhere a Voice is Calling," "A Birthday," "One Fine Day" from Madame Butterfly, and two German songs, "Botschaft" and "Ungeduld." Her beautiful soprano voice, rich, clear and well modulated, was heard to excellent advantage in each of these numbers and all were most heartily encored.

Miss St. Quentin again demonstrated her remarkable skill at the piano, playing two groups of selections, the first by Mendelssohn, including the "Spinning Song," "Adagio" and "Scherzo Op. 16," and the second by Leschetizky, under whom she studied in Vienna. The left hand arrangement of the "Andante Finale" from Lucia was a most pleasing and perfectly executed performance, which was enthusiastically received. Her final number, "Tarantella," was another exquisite piece of work.

Prof. Charles Hansen, the famous blind organist, was given a demonstration when he appeared, and an even greater one when he concluded his part of the program, which was all too short. His three selections, "Gavotte F Major," by Roedel, "Cantelene Nuptian," by Dubois, and the "March Solonelle," by Ketterer, were rendered in a most impressive manner which demonstrated his masterful control of the organ and his wonderful musical ability. Mr. Hansen's work is truly remarkable, and his playing was one of the most pleasing features of a program that was all good.

Mr. Arthur Beriault, dramatic reader, who is always heard with pleasure, gave two selections, the first, The Death Disk, and the second a selection from Mid-Summer Night's Dream. Both were given in his usual pleasing manner and were well received by the large audience.

Miss Frieda Aufderheide, Seymour's premier violinist, played two beautiful selections, Thaïs, by Massenet, and Mazurka, by Malynarski. Miss Aufderheide's playing was marked by the expression and feeling which always characterizes her work, and her skill with the violin was never better demonstrated than in last evening's program.

The piano trio arrangement of the Oberon overture, played by the Misses Luella Toms and Effie White and Mrs. Ora Utzinger Jones was an excellent presentation of this delightful selection, and served to bring out the individual artistry of the three performers.

But to mention all of the good numbers would be to enumerate the entire program, for every number was truly artistic, and the program was one that reflects credit on the performers themselves and the school with which they are connected.

street of the American town since 1 o'clock this morning when General Villa ordered an assault from the southeast of Agua Prieta in an effort to exterminate the Carranzista garrison. Commanders of the United States troops had not made good their threat to fire on either side that endangered American lives and property. The Villistas became so bold in their assault that the score of their snipers even took up vantage points on the American side of the International line. They put two of General Calles' searchlights out of business with well placed shots.

The battle was still raging at daylight. Casualties on either side were not believed to be heavy. Only the lateness of the hour, when firing was the heaviest, prevented a greater casualty list in Douglass. Attacking from the south, Villa's men could not possibly avoid firing across the line into the town. Public schools and smelters were closed.

General Funston's arrival today apparently was being awaited by General Davis before carrying out his threat to fire on either side endangering Douglass. Several provost guards of United States troops were out early today to locate the snipers on American soil but failed to find them. The assault early today followed two hours of artillery preparation by Villa during which considerable havoc was wrought.

This afternoon Mr. Bottorff was arraigned and pleaded guilty. He was fined $1 and costs. As the case was filed under a city ordinance the costs amounted to but $5. This is the first prosecution under this ordinance and is taken to mean that the officers will enforce its provisions.

The trial of the case of the state against Samuel Green, charged with intoxication, has not been set by the special judge. Green says that the petition asking for the removal of Policeman Stewart from the department is not circulated by him and asks those who have it in charge to withdraw it. MERCHANTS' ASSOCIATION
ENDORSES NEW ORDINANCE
Suggestion is Also Made that Hereafter Hallowe'en Celebrations be Limited to One Night.

With a view of preventing a series of Hallowe'en celebrations such as occurred during the past week, the Merchants' Association Monday night informally discussed a suggestion that the festivities on the streets be limited to one night. Many complaints were heard during the last week about crowds of boys throwing corn and committing minor offenses. The merchants were of the opinion that official action might persuade the youngsters to combine all their celebrations in one night.
It was suggested that arrangements be made next year to observe but one night.

It was also suggested that hereafter city ordinances passed by the council be published in two papers.
It has been the custom in the past to publish ordinances at legal rates in but one newspaper. The merchants will recommend to the council that hereafter new ordinances be published in both papers and that the compensation allowed therefor be divided.
The merchants also heartily endorsed the new license fee ordinance which was recently passed by the council. They believe that it will do much towards preventing out-of-town peddlers from coming into the city and selling inferior goods by means of a house to house canvass.
Similar ordinances have been put into force in many Indiana cities.

curing money under false pretense, was arraigned before Mayor Ross today and on a plea of guilty was given a sentence of $10 and four months at the State Penal Farm. This will make a total of 140 days that Bush will be a guest at Supt. Talkington's agricultural experiment station at Putnamville.

Bush, who is a man about 50 years of age, refused to divulge his place of residence. He had represented himself as a magazine collector and had succeeded in separating at least one lady from a dollar in exchange for his magazine. After the solicitor had gone, the lady became suspicious and called the local agent for the magazine, from whom she learned that she had been deceived.

The police were notified and officer
Wallace looked up the man and landed him in jail. He will probably be taken to Putnamville tomorrow.

SIXTH SPY ARRESTED IN GERMAN PLOT

Federal Detectives Following New Trails.

New York, Nov. 2.—Another German spy, making the sixth, was added to the list of alleged Teuton secret service conspirators held in $25,000 bail by the federal authorities on the charge of plotting to blow up ammunition laden ships bound for the allies.

Bronkhorst is said by the authorities to have been the man who met Robert Fay, designer of mines for disabling the ships, and to have given him the dynamite found in the latter's possession at the time of his arrest a week ago.

The six men who thus far have been arrested in connection with the alleged German movement to cripple the shipment of munitions to the allies do not complete the list of those wanted in the alleged conspiracy. Furthermore, Bronkhorst himself has added rather than dispelled the mystery surrounding the alleged intrigue, plotting and secret workings of the men already arrested. His arrest and the information that the secret service men have obtained, tend to show a broadening out of the plot and to suggest new trails for investigation.

Better Babies.

The crusade for better babies has spread from coast to coast, and taken firm hold of American Mothers. Few women realize how much the ill health of the mother influences the unborn child, both physically and mentally. Women who suffer from mysterious pains, backache, nervousness, mental depression, headaches, etc., should rely on Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, which for nearly forty years has been the standard remedy for these ailments.

SCRAP IRON PILED ON RAILS

Motor Car Derailed on Big Four, Men Thrown Into Ditch.

Anderson, Ind., Nov. 2.—A party of civil engineers in the employ of the interstate commerce commission, surveying the Big Four railroad into the city of Anderson, reported to the police that while their motor car on the railroad was approaching the station of Alliance, six miles south, it ran into a pile of scrap iron and cross-ties on the track, derailling the motor car and hurling six men into the ditch. None was seriously hurt.

The sheriff, chief of police and others are searching for the persons who obstructed the track. Persons living in the vicinity of the accident said they did not know who piled the debris on the track. The civil engineers said the obstacles placed on the track would have wrecked a passenger or freight train.

TEUTONS CAPTURE KRAGUZEVAC

Serbian Arsenal Town Falls to Enemy.

FRENCH DEFEAT BULGARS

Sweep Attackers Into the Vardar River, Where Many Are Drowned—Nish Forts Are Now Under Bombardment by Bulgarian Artillery.

London, Nov. 2.—The great Serbian arsenal, Kraguzevac, has fallen before the Germans, according to a Berlin statement.

The Overseas News agency at Berlin announces that the outer forts of Nish are now under bombardment by the Bulgarian artillery, advancing from Kniazevate and Piro.

Directly west of Kraguzevac, the Germans, after taking Milanovac, are pressing south and announce the capture of the heights south of the town and Trivunovo mountain.

The Bulgarians attempted to throw the French troops out of their northernmost positions, based on Krivolak, on the Vardar river, twelve miles south of Istip. At the Bulgarian approach the French advanced detachments, scouting the direction of Kuprili and withdrew to Krivolak and here a division of French troops awaited the attack.

Three attempts were made by the Bulgars to carry the position by storm, but the French artillery on the flanks caught them in a cross-fire while the infantry poured in a heavy rifle fire from the front. The Bulgars hesitated under the fire, and the French taking advantage of the momentary halt, leaped from the trenches and drove the Bulgarians into the Vardar. Recent rains have added to the depth and current of the river and many of the Bulgars were drowned.

A dispatch from Salonica to Paris says that the French have retaken the Kothanic pass, and have driven the Bulgarians out of the district surrounding Kuprili, the town and railroad still remaining in the hands of the Bulgars.

A correspondent at Athens telegraphs that the British expedition force has had its first engagement on the Ciovegl-Dolran front, near Strumitza.

No news has been received of the Russian expedition, estimated at 200,000, which is supposed to be trying to effect a landing on the Bulgarian Black seacoast.

The Corriere Della Sera of Milan, prints a dispatch from Bucharest saying that the third Bulgarian infantry regiment was destroyed with the exception of only fifty men in the desperate fighting between the Bulgarians and the Serbians in the Timok valley.

"The chief function of the juvenile court is to protect young girls and boys. The chief offenders against minors are adults. ### AMERICAN SHOT IN MEX. BATTLE

Villa Demands Surrender of Agua Prieta.

SHELLS PASS OVER U. S. ARMY

Thousand of Mexican Refugee Women and Children Pour Across the Border Line—Were Concentrated in a Camp, Under Guard.

Douglas, Ariz., Nov. 2.—When a machine gun, operated by the garrison in Agua Prieta, was turned upon the American custom house on the border line, George Taylor, an American, was wounded by being shot in the back.

The custom house was peppered with bullets and Taylor, who was in the building, was wounded while running to the cover of a nearby railroad embankment. His legs are paralyzed as a result of the wound. He is a Californian and his mother, Mrs. M. E. Howard, lives in Angeles, Camp, Calaveras county, California.

The wounding of the American was the occasion for General Thomas F. Davis, commanding the American forces guarding the line, to send a message by Major M. L. Herzy, to General Sarrobanez, chief of staff for Villa, warning him that the fight must be kept away from the American line.

Prior to this warning, shells from the cannon of the Carranza forces defending Agua Prieta had been fired over the American boundary line at the forces of Villa and had passed over the heads of the men of the Eighteenth U. S. infantry. A shell exploded near the American custom house.

During the afternoon there was a constant stream of Mexican women and children from Agua Prieta toward the international line after the firing opened, but they were held back by American soldiers. At dark they began slipping through the lines and it was decided to allow them to cross the border and concentrate them in Pirtleville.

The battle opened in the afternoon, after Villa had demanded the surrender of the town. The Carranza forces replied with their cannon. Aside from a few exchanges of shots early in the morning, between Villa advance and Carranza scouts, the Carranza officers paid no attention to the appearance of the Villistas. The Villa forces advanced and formed a circle about the Mexican city, Villa himself appearing from the east with his cavalry division.

Villa cannon replied to the Carranza volleying shot for shot. Machine guns were brought into action, as the Villista forces pressed in closer.

The American observers declared several of the Carranza shells exploded very close to the Villa forces, and clouds of dust rising above Agua Prieta following Villa's artillery firing, indicated that buildings in the town were being hit.

LONDONERS ARE GLOOMY

Spirit of War Optimism Gives Way to Pessimism.

New York, Nov. 2.—The spirit of optimism and confidence which formerly prevailed all classes in London has given way to a general note of discouragement and pessimism, according to a private letter received in this city from the British capital.

The writer describes London as one of the gloomiest and most depressing spots on the earth just at present. The disputes among cabinet members, the apparent failure of the Dardanelles expedition, at the cost of many lies, and the prospect of the adoption of conscription measures in the near future, have combined to produce a state of mind which is anything but stimulating. Another factor is the fear of attacks from Zeppelins.

Make the salad dressing wholesome

"Always a salad" is the advice given. "Salads are wholesome." Yes, if the dressing is not too acid nor too oily. Carnation Milk used in salad dressing makes it delicious, creamy and healthful.

CARNATION MILK—Clean, Sweet, Pure—From Contented Cows—just rich, fresh, sweet cow's milk, evaporated to the consistency of cream—hermetically sealed and sterilized—Carnation Milk is rich and pure when it reaches you.

Always uniform in quality. Carnation Milk is a convenience, an economy—never a bit of waste as with raw milk. Only one can open at a time for every day use and that keeps sweet and pure for several days if kept in a cool dry place.

Order your supply from your grocer—"The Carnation Milkman." The Pacific Coast Condensed Milk Co., Seattle, U. S. A., will be glad to send you their new cook book, "The Story of Carnation Milk."

Cream Salad Dressing

Mix 2 tablespoons butter, add 4 tablespoons flour and a cup of Carnation Milk. Remove from fire and stir in 1-2 cup of Carnation Milk, 1-4 cup of sugar, 1-2 teaspoon salt, and 2 tablespoons of lemon juice. Serve when very cold. This is best with fruit salads.

EIGHTEEN HURT IN HEAD-ON COLLISION

Passenger and Freight Trains Crash.

Goshen, Ind., Nov. 2.—Eighteen people were hurt, one of them seriously; thirteen freight cars were wrecked and damage estimated at $150,000 resulted on the Chicago-Detroit division of the Wabash railroad one miles west of New Paris, when fast west-bound passenger train No. 5 crashed head-on into an east-bound freight. The two locomotives were telescoped.

The engineer and fireman on the passenger locomotive jumped, as did the fireman of the freight. Engineer Elmer Stoner of the freight remained in his place. Both his feet are badly scalded. He may recover. His home is at Montpelier, O. Nearly all of the passengers hurt are members of a theatrical company.

The freight cars rolled down a steep embankment. Only one car of the passenger train left the rails. The train stopped on the bridge over Turkey creek and after several hours' delay was run to Milford, via the Big Four, and then to Chicago, via the Baltimore & Ohio. Two carloads of dressed beef and big shipments of molasses, English walnuts and cement are ruined.

Confusion of orders is held to be responsible for the accident. The freight was to have cleared at New Paris for the passenger, which does not stop at that point. At the time of the collision the freight engine was without a headlight.

Y., writes: "For some time I was troubled with headache and distress in my stomach after eating, also with constipation. About six months ago I began taking Chamberlain's Tablets. They regulated the action of my bowels and the headache and other annoyances ceased in a short time." Obtainable everywhere.

Farmers Would Make December 10 to January 1 Open Season.

Washington, Ind., Nov. 2.—Davies county farmers desire the open season for quail changed from Nov. 10 to Dec. 20 to Dec. 10 to Jan. 1.

The farmers' objection to the law is that the open season comes when the farmer is busy gathering corn. Davies county farmers are suggesting that the quail season open on Dec. 10 and close Jan. 1.

THE BATTLE-CRY

By CHARLES NEVILLE BUCK

AUTHOR of "The CALL of the CUMBERLANDS"

CHAPTER XVIII.

When winter has come and settled down for its long siege in the Cumberland lands human life shrinks and shrivels into a shivering wretchedness, and a spirit of dreariness steals into the human heart.

The house of old Milt McBriar was not so dark and cheerless a hovel as the houses of his lesser neighbors, but as that winter closed in his heart was bitter and his thoughts were black. In a roundabout way he had learned of Young Milt's visit to the McNash cabin. His son was the apple of his eye, and now he was seeing him form embryonic affiliations with the people of his enemy.

Young Milt had visited Dawn; he had watched with Anse Havey. The father had always taken a natural pride in the honesty that gleamed from his son's alert eyes, and the one person from whom he had concealed his own ways of guile and deceit most studiously was the lad who would some day be leader in his stead. There were few things that this old intriguer feared, but one there was, and now it was tracing lines of care and anxiety in the visage that had always been so masklike and imperturbable. If his son should ever look past his outward self and catch a glimpse of the inner man, the father knew that he would not be able to sustain the scorn of those younger eyes. So, while the lad, who had gone back to college in Lexington, conned his books, his father sat before the blaze of his hearth, his pipe tight clamped between his teeth, his heart festering in his breast, and his mind dangerously active.

The beginnings of all the things which he deplored, and meant to punish, went back to the establishment of a school with a "fotched-on" teacher. Had Dawn McNash not come there, his boy's feet would not have gone wandering westward over the ridge, straying out of partizan paths. The slimmest of her body, the lure of her violet eyes, and the dusky meshes of her dark hair had led his own son to guard the roof that sheltered her against the hand of arson the father had hired.

But most of all, Anse Havey was responsible: Anse Havey who had persuaded his son to make common cause with the enemy. For that Anse Havey must die.

Heretofore Old Milt had struck only at lesser men, fearing the retribution of too audacious a crime, but now his venom was acute, and even such grave considerations as the danger of a holocaust must not halt its appeasement.

Still the mind of Milt McBriar, the elder, had worked long in intrigue, and even now it could not follow a direct line. Bad Anse must not be shot down in the road. His taking off must be accomplished by a shrewd method, and one not directly traceable to so palpable a motive as his own hatred. Such a plan his brain was working out, but for its execution he needed a hand of craft and force—such a hand as only Luke Thixton could supply—and Luke was out West.

It was not his intention to rush hastily into action. Some day he would go down to Lexington and Luke should come East to meet him. There, a hundred and thirty miles from the hills, the two of them would arrange matters to his own satisfaction.

Roger Malcolm had gone back, and he had not, after all, gone back with a conqueror's triumph. He was now discussing in directors' meetings plans looking to a titanic grouping of interests which were to focalize on these hills and later to bring developments. The girl's school was gradually making itself felt, and each day saw small classes at the desk and blackboard—small classes that were growing larger.

Now that Milt had laid the groundwork of his plans, he was making the field fallow by a seeming of general beneficence. His word had gone out along the creeks and branches and into the remote coves of his territory that it "wouldn't hurt folks none ter give their children a little larnin'."

In response to that hint they trooped in from the east, wherever the roads could be traveled. Among those who "hitched an' lighted" at the fence were not only parents who brought their children, but those who came impelled by that curiosity which lurks in lonely lives. There were men in jeans and hickory shirts; women in gay shawls and linsey-woolsey and calico; people from "back of beyond," and Juanita felt her heart beat faster with the hope of success.

"I hear ye've got a right plentiful gatharin' of young barbarians over there at the college these days," said Anse Havey one afternoon, when they met up on the ridge.

Her chin came up proudly and her eyes sparkled.

"It has been wonderful," she told him. "Only one thing has marred it."

"What's that?" he asked. "Your aloofness. Just because I'm going to smash your wicked regime," she laughed, "is no reason why you should remain peeved about it and sulk in your tent."

He shook his head and gazed away. Into his eyes came that troubled look which nowadays they sometimes wore.

"I reckon it wouldn't hardly be honest for me to come. I've told ye I don't think the thing will do no good."

He was looking at her and his hands slowly clenched. Her beauty, with the enthusiasm lighting her eyes, made him feel like a man whose thirst was killing him and who gazed at a clear spring beyond his reach—or, like the caravan driver whose sight is tortured by a mirage. He drew a long breath, then added:

"I've got another reason an' a stronger one for not comin' over there very often. Any time ye wants me for anything I reckon ye knows I'll come." "What is your reason?" she demanded.

"I ain't never been much interested in any woman." He held her eyes so directly that a warm color suddenly flooded her cheeks, then he went on with naked honesty and an un concealed bitterness of heart: "When I puts myself in the way of havin' to love one, I'll pick a woman that won't have to be ashamed of me—some mountain woman."

For an instant she stared at him in astonishment, then she exclaimed: "Ashamed of you! I don't think any woman would be ashamed of you, Mr. Havey," but, recognizing that her voice had been overserious, she laughed, and once more her eyes danced with gay mischief.

"Don't be afraid of me. I'll promise not to make love to you."

"I'm obleeged," he said slowly. "That ain't what I'm skeered of. I'm afraid ye couldn't hardly stop me from makin' love to you."

He paused, and the badinage left her eyes.

"Mr. Havey," she said with great seriousness, "I'm glad you said that. It gives us a chance to start honestly, as all true friendship should start. In some things any woman is wiser than any man. You won't fall in love with me. You thought you were going to hate me, but you don't."

"God knows I don't," he fiercely interrupted her. "Neither will you fall in love with me. You told me once of your superior age and wisdom, but in some things you are still a boy. You are a very lonely boy, too—a boy with a heart hungry for companionship. You have had friends only in books—comradship only in dreams. You have lived down there in that old prison of a house with a sword of Damocles hanging always over your head. Because we have been in a way congenial, you are mistaking our friendship for danger of love."

Danger of love! He knew that it had gone past a mere danger, and his eyes for a moment must have shown that he realized its hopelessness, but Juanita shook her head and went on: "Don't do it. It would be a pity. I'm rather hungry, too, for a friend; I don't mean for a friend in my work, but a friend in my life. Can't we be friends like that?"

She stood looking into his eyes, and slowly the drawn look of gravity left his face.

He had always thought quickly and dared to face realities. He was now facing his hardest reality. He loved her with utter hopelessness. Her eyes told him that it must always be just that way, and yet she had appealed to him—she had said she needed his friendship. To call it love would make it necessary for her to decline it. Henceforth life for Anse Havey was to mean a heartache, but if she wanted his allegiance she might call it what she would. It was hers.

Swiftly he vowed in his heart to set a seal on his lips and play the part she had assigned to him.

"I'm right glad ye said that," he assured her. "I reckon ye're right. I reckon we can go on fightin' and bein' friends. Ye see, as I said, I didn't know much about womenfolks, an' because I liked ye I was worried."

She nodded understandingly. Suddenly he bent forward and his words broke impetuously from his lips.

"Do ye 'low to marry that man Malcolm?" He came a step toward her, then raising his hand swiftly, he added: "No—don't answer that question! That's your business. I didn't have no license to ask. Besides, I don't want ye to answer it."

"It's a bargain, isn't it?" she smiled. "Whenever you get lonely over there by yourself and find that Hamlet isn't as lively a companion as you want, or that Alexander the Great is a little too fond of himself, or Napoleon is overmoody, come over here and we'll try to cheer each other up."

"I reckon," he said with an answering smile, "I'm liable to feel that way tonight, but I ain't comin' to learn civilization. I'm just comin' to see you."

FIRE DISTRICTS.

Seymour's fire map shows that the five wards are divided into twenty-two fire districts and when an alarm is given the fire bell gives the number of the ward in taps, then after a pause the district number is sounded. When calling the telephone exchange for a fire alarm always give the street and number where the fire is located. Do not attempt to call by fire districts.

The most widespread disease in the world

The most widespread disease in the world today is that dread affection of the teeth called pyorrhea. Nine out of every ten grown persons have it to some extent. You may have it and be unaware of it. Why? Because scientists have proved that the cause of this disease is a germ which inhabits every human mouth, and that thousands have this disease and do not realize it until it reaches the advanced stages of bleeding gums and loose teeth.

Accept the advice dentists everywhere are giving and take special precautions in your daily toilet against this disease. To meet the need for such a daily treatment and to enable everyone to take the necessary precautions against this disease, a prominent dentist has put his own prescription before the public in the convenient form of Seneco Tooth Paste.

Seneco contains the best corrective and preventive for pyorrhea known to dental science. Used daily it will successfully protect your teeth from this disease. Seneco also contains the best harmless agent for keeping the teeth clean and white. It has a refreshing flavor and leaves a wholesomely clean, cool and pleasant taste in the mouth.

Start the Seneco treatment tonight—full details in the folder wrapped around every tube. Symptoms described. A 25c two oz. tube is sufficient for six or eight weeks of the pyorrhea treatment. Get Seneco at your druggists today, or send 4c in stamps or coin for sample tube and folder. Address The Sental Remedies Co., 507 Union Central Bldg., Cincinnati, Ohio.

How to Prevent Croup.

It may be a surprise to you to learn that in many cases croup can be prevented. Mrs. H. M. Johns, Elida, Ohio, relates her experience as follows: "My little boy is subject to croup. During the past winter I kept a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house, and when he began having that croupy cough I would give him one or two doses of it and it would break the attack. I like it better for children than any other cough medicine because children take it willingly, and it is safe and reliable." Obtainable everywhere.

WOMEN INTERESTED IN THE ELECTIONS

Suffrage Issue Voted on in New York, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts Today.

VIGOROUS CAMPAIGNS WAGED

Submission of Question in New York

Comes 67 Years After Susan B. Anthony First Took up Fight.

By United Press Staff Correspondent
New York, Nov. 2—Today the men of New York, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts will say by ballot whether their women shall be given the vote.

A heavy vote in New York and Massachusetts and a light vote in Pennsylvania have been forecasted. Whirlwind finish campaigns ended last night. Early this morning suffragists were at every polling place to buttonhole the men as they arrived and make their final plea for a favorable decision.

The anti's also were represented generally, but their campaign has taken more the form of billboard, streetcar and handbill statements than personal propaganda work.

Should Pennsylvania vote for suffrage, the "Justice Bell," duplicate of the Liberty Bell, which has been carried about the state for months with its shackled clapper prominently displayed, will be rung in Philadelphia. If suffrage is defeated, it cannot be voted on again in Pennsylvania until 1920.

Submission of the suffrage question to New York voters today comes 67 years after Susan B. Anthony first took up the fight for "votes for women." The constitutional amendment has passed the legislature and the vote today is a legislative referendum to the people. Governor Whitman will vote "yes" and Mrs.

OPINIONS OF FOUR MEN ON GRANTING THE VOTE TO WOMEN

Abraham Lincoln—I go for all sharing the privileges of the government who assist in bearing the burdens, by no means excluding women.

Woodrow Wilson—I believe the time has come to extend the privilege and responsibility of the vote to the women.

Theodore Roosevelt—It is the right of woman to have the ballot. It is the duty of man to give it and we all need the woman's help as we try to solve the many and terrible problems set before us.

John Mitchell—It's a sure thing that any adult who is amenable to the laws should have a voice in the making of the laws.

Whitman has been prominent in the pro-suffrage campaign.

Scales Brick Building.

While the crowd of spectators held its breath "Crazy Jack" Williams sealed the side of the Groub building, by clinging to the bricks which projected from the corner of the wall. He is known as the "Human Fly" and has given performances in many places. He said he was unable to reach the top of the building on account of the collection of dust in the crevices of the brick.

SANTA WILL BRING MUNICIPAL TREE

ty and we want every child in Jackson county to see it. It will be decorated in a manner that will gladden their little hearts."

It has been proposed that on one night, probably the Tuesday before Christmas, a musical program be given on the big platform that will be erected near the tree. The band will be engaged for that night, it is stated, and a large chorus composed of the best voices in all the churches in Seymour will give several numbers. Christmas Carols will also be sung by the hundreds of people who will assemble around the tree. There will be a short address before the program and one of the pastors of the city will pronounce prayer.

Following the musical program sacks of candy and fruit will be given to each child as he walks upon the platform. Santa Claus will be there and will distribute the candy himself.

Rough estimates have been made today relative to the number of sacks of candy that will be needed and it is thought that at least five thousand will be required. In order to distribute the candy it will be necessary to call upon the various church societies and other organizations to assist in making the sacks. It is suggested that the sacks be made out of mosquito bar and be sewered in the shape of a stocking. Hundreds of yards of the material will be needed for the sacks but by co-operative efforts the sacks can be made in ample time. The material can be cut in the shape desired and distributed to the societies that will aid in this work.

Mr. Able said that other committees would have to be appointed to complete the plans and that suggestions that will make the celebration more complete are solicited. More than a hundred dollars will be required to carry out the plans and the committee will solicit funds this week. Several large contributions have already been offered and it is not believed any trouble whatever will be experienced in raising the required amount of money.

The committee is already working on the plans and hope to have the preliminaries well under way before the close of the week. The various societies of the churches will likely be called upon this week to assist in making the sacks and the business men will be asked for funds. Citizens who desire to contribute a dollar or more for this purpose may leave the money with Mr. Able.

There is no question but that the Municipal Tree celebration will do much towards spreading Christmas cheer and will carry the holiday spirit into every home. It is believed that hundreds of children from all parts of the county will arrange to see the tree some time during the holidays. While candy and fruit will be distributed only on one night—following the program by the union chorus—other musical programs may be held around the tree. The decorations will be completed probably eight or ten days before December 25 and the platform may be used at other times.

It has not been definitely decided where the tree will be placed. This matter will be left largely to the general committee and the various merchants will be consulted and the majority opinion will rule it is stated. It is necessary to place the tree in some block that is almost free from telephone and telegraph wires and at a point where hundreds of people can be accommodated while the program is being given. It has been suggested that the square on West Second street, between Walnut and Chestnut streets be used for placing the tree near the corner of Chestnut street, the throng of people can stand on West Second street and also on Chestnut street. The location will be determined later.

All Souls' Day.

Today was observed by the Catholic churches throughout the world as All Souls' Day and mass was said at the St. Ambrose Catholic church this morning in memory of the departed members. Yesterday was observed as All Saints' Day and quite a few here carried flowers to the Catholic cemetery. In some places the members of the Catholic churches march to the cemetery in a body where special rites are said, but here the day is observed quietly.

FIRE DESTROYS LARGE BARN AT BROWNSTOWN

Early Morning Blaze Burns Barn on Chris Kamman Residence to The Ground.

Fire, which broke out about 2 o'clock this morning, completely destroyed the large barn at the residence of Mr. Chris Kamman of Brownstown. Four calves were burned before they could be reached, but all the horses in the barn were rescued. Considerable hay and grain was consumed in the flames, and several farming implements were badly damaged. Mr. Kamman carried $400 insurance on the barn and some on the implements. The cause of the fire is unknown.

Funeral of Isaac White.

The funeral of Isaac White, 75, who died Sunday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Ella Robb, in Indianapolis, after a short illness, was held Monday morning at the Methodist church at Freetown, conducted by the Rev. Mr. Bless. The remains were interred in the Freetown cemetery.

Mr. White was a native of this county and until the death of his wife, four years ago, spent his entire life in the Freetown neighborhood. After the death of Mrs. White he lived with his daughter in Indianapolis part of the time. Two weeks ago he visited in this county. He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Robb and Mrs. Will Edwards, and one son, James White. He also leaves several grandchildren. Mr. White was a member of the United Brethren church at Freetown, having joined during a revival which was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Neal several years ago. He was highly respected citizen and his host of friends regret to hear of his death.
